Billie Eilish is a superstar. He performed at Coachella. He has millions of followers on social media. His song Bad Guy became an instant hit, climbing the Billboard Hot 100 music chart. Yet he somehow found time to watch Office 13 times (and counting.) Here's how Billie Eilish shines her love for Office into her song, My Strange Addiction. Actor's Office | Photo by Paul Drinkwater/NBCU Photo Bank Billie Eilish is one of the most popular artists in the world He might be 17 years old, but Billie Eilish takes on the music industry by storm. He caught our eye with the Ocean Eye song. She has since won the Children's Choice Award for Favorite Refugee Artist and released her first full album. Through all fame and success, Billie Eilish kept one thing constant - her love for the television series, The Office. The singer also put an Office sample in her song, My Strange Addiction. The samples were from the Episode of Midnight Threat Level when the characters watched the fake films they created themselves. Eve Nelson, an Office song producer, said in an interview with Rolling Stone that he was ecstatic at Billie's addition to his song. Can't say enough about the girl, says Nelson. He is, to me, one of the best young artists today. He takes risks. He himself. He marched to his own drummer. I love what he does with that. I think it's brilliant. I could hear that he got a bit of inspiration by the beat. I respect and admire him so much. I am honored that I have nothing to do with Billie Eilish's inspiration. Billie Eilish | Photo by Tim Mosenfelder/Getty Images He met Rainn Wilson who was also known as Dwight Schrute on 'Office' in May 2019, Billie Eilish finally met Rainn Wilson, who plays Dwight Schrute in the Office. They made the video together on behalf of Billboard. It already has more than 7 million views on YouTube. In the video, the two spent time meeting each other, Billie Eilish eventually taking the knowledge quiz of her Office. He answered questions about the candlestick company Jan, the expression of Princess Unicorn's catch, and the preferred pizza spot among Office staff. She watches the 'Office' to relax Even though she visits the world, Billie Eilish is still looking for time to watch her favorite show. When a fan asked him on Snapchat what makes the singer feel like being at home as he travels, the answer is not surprising. The thing that makes me feel at home is to have an Office, to be honest, and I know that sounds kind of stupid because it's a show and that's the Office, says Billie Eilish on Snap Me: Billie Eilish. This office has kind of always been like me, kind of, escaped from I knew it was ridiculous, but it was. And so, for instance when I went to visit somewhere out of the United States, there was no Office, so I couldn't watch it and that's when I got to my worst place. Her favorite episode? Beach games. Billie Eilish's album, When We All Turned Up, Where Do We Go? available on Spotify and most streaming platform. Billie Eilish revealed in a recent speech that someone once told her there were no hits on an album nominated by Grammy, When We All Sleep, Where Do We Go? When we worked on the album, someone told me and my brother Finneas, who was my cow writer, that there was no hit on the album, said Eilish, adding, I didn't know how that was supposed to help anyone, but the ugly was wrong! The 17-year-old singer received an award at Variety's Hitmakers brunch in Hollywood last Saturday, yet said that she did not set out to make a song or hit album. I never meant to make a hit, and crazy that you can make one without meaning, says Eilish in his speech. Eilish also seemed to reference the recent fallout surrounding his lack of musical knowledge when he thanked Variety for not wanting to make me look silly as everyone else wanted to do on TV. When We All Get Asleep, Where Do We Go? is a critical and commercial breakthrough when it was first released in March this year. It topped the Billboard 200 chart for weeks, and also gave birth to number one, Bad Guy. Eilish's debut album was nominated for two awards at the 2020 Grammys: best pop vocal album and album of the year. Eilish is also for best new artist, and his song Bad Guy scored his nomination for this year's record, song of the year, and best pop solo performances. While being interviewed on the 2020 Oscars red carpet, Billie Eilish reminds everyone how young it is. Decked out at Chanel, the 18-year-old told Billy Porter that some of his favorite films growing up were Babadook and We Need to Talk About Kevin ... that came out in recent years 2014 and 2011. Naturally, it makes the internet feel very old. Eilish's brother, 22-year-old Finneas O'Connell, said he was a Social Network (2010), Moneyball (2011), and any type of Aaron Sorkin had nothing to do with. Oh, and is this a movie from your youth? Porter replied, shocked. Uh huh. Twitter felt almost the same as Porter did. I'm not old, but watching Billie Eilish and her brother answer the question 'What movie do you like when you grow up?' With answers like Social Networking is quite an experience! tweeted an audience. It's hard because it's possible to know that Eilish was only 12 when Babadook came out, his long black nails sort of sparked a Nightmare on Elm Street's Freddy Krueger, which makes sense given that he says his favorite genre is horror. Twitter user @WalterWhiteRab1 called the look of the singer post-apocalypse Miley Cyrus. Eilish and O'Connell keep talking with Louis Vritel and Sydney Park for the Academy. I mean, Parasite really blew my mind, said Eilish, also picking oscar nominees Once Upon a Time in Hollywood and Jojo Rabbit, the last one in which she and dan brother has just watched. In addition to performing during Sunday night At Memoriam, Eilish will hold the next James Bond theme song, which he tells Billy Porter he and O'Connell have already written. It's done! He said. It's crazy, dude. It's a definite life goal. The goal of living in a old age is 18 years old, that is. image: Darkroom/Interscope Billie Eilish is a singer and songwriter who rose to stand out from her initial SoundCloud track. He has received numerous awards, such as the Best New Artist award from the Grammys and The Most Simultaneous Usual Participation of the Hot 100 by a woman from the Guinness World Records. But unlike other mainstream artists like Taylor Swift and Ariana Grande, Billie's song stands out for how she whispers while playing in a beautiful tone, as well as her authentic and honest lyrics about life. And speaking of his lyrics, many of them layered with complexity. They also seem to give clues to Billie's past romance, depression pain and response to fame and wealth. Songs like Ocean Eye and Everything I Want are probably popular, but can you read all these lyrics with heart? OK, maybe that's too easy ... So what about songs like Ilomilo and Xanny? You might think 'Well, that's just 'Other Stupid Songs,' but in today's musical quiz, we'll determine how many Billie Eilish fans you really are. So, let's find out if you can finish some of the most popular lyrics on the album Don't Smile on Me and When We Sleep, Where Do We Go? Album! The song may not make sense when you read it from top to bottom, but that's because it's meant to be read upside down. So when you read it as intended, it goes like this Don't leave me, please, goodbye.
